NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The judges of the Iowa Supreme Court are accused of charging mileage while they ride on the railroads as deadheads.

Two hundred families of Philadelphia Quakers will form a colony in Minnesota, on the Northern Pacific railroad, next spring.

A sale by auction of a tract of land fifty-one by thirty-eight miles in area, in Kansas, is to be made to satisfy a mortgage of $5,000,000.

A visiting clergyman was just rising from prayer in a St. Paul church, when an usher strode up the centre aisle and handed him a big bouquet, just as they do in the theatre.

Some years ago the father of a Harvard graduate who had been living abroad after taking his degree, and spending freely, cut off his supplies. The son, intensely indignant, opened a vein, addressed his father a letter full of reproaches, written in his own blood, and then allowed himself to bleed to death.

The sheriff of Middlesex county, Mass., died recently, and the controversy as to which of the deputies, as the senior in the office, should act as sheriff ad interim, has been taken into court. The odd thing about the fight is that the contestants are not struggling for the position, but against it; for it will yield no additional profit, and whoever gets it will be compelled to act as executioner next Friday.

An incident, which would be absolutely incredible were not its truth amply vouched for, recently occurred at Marseilles. A man hanged himself at the door of his house with a girdle of wool. A neighbor having given the alarm, a number of persons rushed up, but they never thought of cutting the man down, and calmly watched him as he writhed in the death agony, which was very long. An officer of customs, who reached the spot a quarter of an hour after the crowd had begun to collect, released the victim, but he had ceased to breathe.

An Elephant in an Interesting Condition.

From the New York Sun.

"The most interesting fact ever reported about elephants in this country is the now seemingly well authenticated story that the cow elephant Baby, now in Cooper & Bailey's winter building in Philadelphia, is going to have a young one. If that is true, it will be the first elephant calf born in captivity, I believe. Baby is the queen of the troupe of five elephants to which she belongs. She manages and bosses them all and they seem perfectly devoted to her. I saw them crowd together to catch her when she was falling from a breaking pedestal one time, and lower her gently to the ground. Let her call for them and they will rush to her, no matter what stands in the way, and they will not allow her to be struck or hurt. They all seem to know her condition and so take extraordinary care of her, but she has always been queen among them. She is naturally wiser than any other elephant and the kindest of her sort. She will not break loose herself or do any mischief, but she will turn the others loose. It is pleasing to witness their affection for her, and how thoughtful they are to guard her against all risk. They will not allow her to get into a dangerous place—crossing a bridge that might break, or a ford in which she might mire—until one of the old males has gone over ahead and trumpeted back that all is safe for her."

What Made It Taste Queer.

A Vineyard proprietor of the Haute Garonne, France, while recently engaged in tasting his wine, came to a large vat of the last vintage, and was shocked at what he described as its "fantastic flavor." He accordingly allowed it to run off into other vessels, and proceeded to examine the receptacle, when, to his horror, he discovered the body of one of his own workmen, who had mysteriously disappeared last October. The comforting piece of intelligence is added that the authorities have forbidden the sale of the wine, but the sequel is less satisfactory to brandy drinkers, who learn that the fluid, which has been undergoing such unusual treatment, will be handed over to the distillers.

THE JONES BANQUET.

The Bulletin heads its account of the banquet to Senator Jones, "A Remarkable Gathering." It brought together in social conversation the most distinguished party of gentlemen and statesmen that has ever been gathered in New York city. The large ball room at Delmonico's was decorated in the most elaborate manner, and was converted for the time into a mimic mining camp, situated in the midst of a flower garden. Among the decorations in confectionery and jellies were representations of chutes used in placer mining, a mimic drift in a quartz mine with Lilliputian miners wielding Lilliputian picks, miniature quartz mills for crushing ore, and several other devices which were familiar to mining men in the company, but which proved so many riddles to the rest of the guests. The Times, speaking of the dinner and those who were present, says: It was a remarkable gathering on account of the well known gentlemen who composed it. It comprised 51 statesmen and civilians, one actual candidate for the Presidency of the United States, one possible candidate in event of a want of unanimity in the Republican National Convention, and a great number of United States Senators and Congressmen, and prominent office holders of this state. Only one after-dinner speech, in an ordinary sense, was made, and this was by Senator Blaine, in eulogy of Senator Jones.

The Tribune, whose editor was among the guests, publishes the names of 54 invited, of whom the following 14 were absent: Senators Conkling, Allison and Logan; Governor Cornell, William B. Woodin, J. B. Chaffee, Amos Townsend, S. B. Elkins, Hugh Hastings, W. E. Chandler, T. C. Plate, General Arthur, E. M. Madden, and Congressman Morton. The Tribune adds: There were no speeches whatever. So far was it from a political dinner that no toasts were given and no healths pledged.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANVASS.

The Presidential question is becoming more and more the absorbing topic every day. The newspapers are filled with the discussion. Yesterday's dispatches were largely made up of what is called "Presidential gossip." Here is some of it:

The New York Tribune vehemently supports Blaine, and the Times Grant. There is a vague, untraceable rumor that Blaine will soon withdraw from the candidacy to make room for Grant, with expectations four years hence. The New York Sun wants anybody nominated who can beat Grant, and says this of Bayard: If there is any one thing clear, it is that Bayard is an able and distinguished Democratic leader who cannot possibly be elected President. He is a Southern man, with an ugly Southern record. Besides, he voted for the Electoral Commission bill, hence Tilden men will rebel against him.

The Chicago Tribune has more and varied correspondence favorable to Blaine, and showing that Grant's strength is becoming less in all sections.

A Chicago Tribune's Washington special says: Anti-Tilden Democrats are taking fright at the new movement, they think they have dived on the part of Tilden to capture the Democratic nomination. Democrats are authority for the statement that Tilden has "fixed" a formidable list of State delegations, embracing New York, all the New England states (except possibly Massachusetts), Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, California and Nevada, together with Kentucky, Georgia, Florida and North Carolina. These States are claimed as certain to instruct for Tilden.

There is work for the tar and feather brigade in Reno. A new method of shoving the queer has come to light there. A couple appeared before a clergyman and requested him to perform the marriage ceremony. The ceremony was performed and the bridegroom handed the minister a fifty-dollar bill and told him to take ten dollars out of it. Forty dollars in change was returned and the couple disappeared. The bill was counterfeit.

This is a very pretty story as it stands, but it has been so long told on a Boston minister that it seems a pity to change the locality at this late date. It is to one of our Nevada contemporaries that the credit of revamping and localizing the anecdote is due. The Stock Report swallowed the joke without detecting its staleness.

It is often well to look abroad for an unpartisan opinion of any public man. In England in 1843 Lord Brougham laid it down that "the publicity with which every department of the American Government is administered makes peculation impossible. It is an effluvia which in such a country can have no existence." "These words," says the January Quarterly Review, "have a strange sound to ears accustomed to the disclosure of such scandals as disgraced the second Presidency of Gen. Grant."

A fatal accident occurred in Bodie last Saturday evening, resulting from almost incredible carelessness. A. C. Robinson, foreman of the Spaulding mine, and Robert Anderson went together to their cabin, and made a fire in the stove. In about fifteen minutes the stove blew up, killing Robinson, and giving Anderson some painful wounds. Some one had placed Giant powder in the stove to thaw it out for use, and had forgotten to remove it.

Longfellow's nephew has taken the poet's advice to "be up and doing," having jumped his bail for forgery, and left "footprints on the sands of time" on his hurried way to South America. It doesn't, however, tend to make his uncle's life sublime to read in all the papers that the escaped forger is "a nephew of the poet."

The Bulletin is ahead of all the other San Francisco papers with an editorial on "The Coming of Spring." Not that the Bulletin means to assert that spring has really come on. Oh, no. It clearly defines its position by stating that "the traditional spring weather ought to come about this time."

Two tape worms, one 17, the other 13 feet in length, have just been evicted from a Wheatland man, who had furnished them with all the comforts of a home for an unknown period.

It is sarcastically suggested that Brick Pomeroy and Dennis Kearney would make a most excellent ticket for the National party.—Carson Tribune.

Why sarcastically?

The Eureka Sentinel denies that James G. Fair is a candidate for U. S. Senator.

Blaine refuses to be the vice-presidential tail to General Grant's Presidential kite.

What ups and downs there are in this world. The Bodie doctors are now complaining of dull times.

The Pope condemns divorce.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Virginia City has a chess club with 28 members.

A Chinaman died of starvation in Virginia City last Saturday.

The Bodie mines paid a million and a half in dividends last year.

Professor McDonald, leader of the Sarsfield Guard Band of Virginia, is dead.

It is reported that Webb, the big sheep man of Siakiyou, has lost 10,000 sheep this season.

The Bodie Mining Company has paid $1,575,000 in dividends, the last of which was paid February 2, 1880, and the previous one Jan. 2d.

A western editor says that one hug is better than half a dozen love letters, and they can't be introduced as evidence in a breach of promise suit either.

The B.C. Colonist estimates the number of head of cattle in peril at 50,000, and says if its worst fears are confirmed the province must draw largely for meat on Oregon and California for at least three years to come.

A man named James Pryor was instantly killed at Olema, early last Sunday morning. He had been in the village drinking late on Saturday night, and on his way home he fell into the creek that runs through Olema and broke his neck.

On the 15th instant Hugo Scott, while at work on Gen. Naglee's levee, near Tom Paine slough, adjacent to Tracy, got his neck broken at the base of the skull by a stroke from a scrapper, which caught on a root and tilted over, the handle striking Mr. Scott on the back of the neck.

February 7th, near College City, Colusa county, a team attached to a gang-plow became unmanageable, and the driver, John W. Wright, undertook to hold the leaders by the bridles, but they got away from him, and the plow struck him and cut him almost in two at the waist, killing him immediately.

The Soko and the Susmetu.

Mr. H. M. Stanley brought home the skulls of two "Sokes," which had been eaten by an affable chief with whom he foregathered one day, and Prof. Huxley at once pronounced them to be human. But Central America has now come forward with the Susmetu, and so far as descriptions go at present, this animal would appear to come as near ourselves as the Soko, for the other natives of its forests whom we call men and women call the Susmetu human.

What Has Become of Paul Morphy.

From the New York Sun.

In comparing the chess congress of this year with that of 1856, it is impossible not to recall the melancholy fate of the marvelous American youth who was, perhaps, the greatest of all chess players of any age or clime. In those days, when the New World was just making its prowess felt in the Old; people were accustomed to lump together McCormick's reaper, Hobb's locksmith, the yacht America, and Paul Morphy. Paul's laurels were short-lived; his brain became disordered, and now few probably know whether the brilliant young fellow who, as a youth, overcame with the greatest ease the most renowned of the world's chess players is living or dead. The fact is that he still assumes to practice his profession of the law in New Orleans, but never has a case in court. He never plays chess, and studiously avoids even the sight of a chessboard or men.

A Wicked Brunette's Dodge.

At an onion party in Rockland, Me., a wicked brunette played a high game for kisses. At a party of this description it is the custom for the girls to go into a darkened room, when one of the party bites a mouthful from an onion. A young man is then admitted, and it is his proud privilege to kiss the batch of girls until he is enabled by the taste to tell which one of them bit the fragrant fruit. The brunette aforementioned, in this case slipped the onion into her pocket instead of biting it, and the spruce Boston drummer, who was summoned to test and find, had kissed five times around the circle, and was beginning again, when a girl, whose jealous lover was outside, discovered the trick, and the game was up.

Want the Rope Again.

A bill for the restoration of capital punishment is before the Wisconsin Legislature, and a Janesville merchant, to test public sentiment on the subject, made a canvass among his customers who were electors. Out of sixty-nine, the sum of one day's vote, thirty-seven favored, and thirty-two opposed the bill.

DISTRICT COURT-KING S. D.

The following business has been transacted in the District Court since yesterday's report:

S. O. Loonass vs. Bianchi & Co.—Verdict for pl. for $230. Dft. granted five days stay of execution to file notice of motion of new trial.

P. N. Marker vs. H. E. Casey et al.—Judgment entered in accordance with the prayer of complaint.

The case of A. J. Bunting vs. the C. P. R. R. Co. and Michael Harrison vs. the C. P. R. R. Co. are now before the court. These two actions are brought to recover damages for injuries sustained by the plaintiffs in an accident which occurred in the town of Reno about two years ago. The plaintiffs were attempting to cross the track in a wagon at the intersection of Sierra street and Commercial Row, and the team was run over by a train. The horses were killed, and one of the men considerably injured. An action was brought against the railroad company in the District Court, and a non-suit granted the defendants in November, 1918. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court which sent the case back for trial. After a long delay the suits have at last come up for trial in the District Court again. It is said that there are over fifty witnesses to be examined.

He Showed Them How It Went. "Oh! Indeed! To be it is," he said, as with a smile he walked up to the new bicycle, standing in front of Osburn & Shoemaker's, where it was being looked over by an admiring crowd. "Oh! yes; how nice and easy it must ride. I will show you how it goes, as I have ridden a two-wheeled velocipede—Smith, hold it while I mount the thing."

The mounting was easily accomplished, with the assistance of Smith, and the enthusiast steadied himself against a post, and directed Smith to "let go."

Oh! Isn't this nice. I am sure I can ride it," and with a few movements backward and forward to get a start, he struck out.

"Ah! Oh! O-o-o-o-o-ch!" And suddenly the small wheel which travels in the rear of the beast rose to a position in mid air, and our hero alighted on the bosom of his mother earth, also on his shirt bosom, in anything but a graceful or comfortable position, with the machine on top of him.

He was carried away by two of the by-standers, with a sprained ankle. The wheel was uninjured.

E. W. Crutcher has sold to Wagner of Oakland, 110 beef cattle at $35 per head.

L. Clark and David Martin are on the road from Duck Flat with 250 cattle which they expect to feed awhile here and then sell.

Hildreth, of the big cattle firm of Dunphy & Hildreth, returned to San Francisco without making any purchases. The prices asked were too high to suit him.

The market is now inactive. Buyers are holding off. Seven cents is asked for good cattle.

R. Kirman is down from Virginia to-day with an eye to beef. He does a large business in buying cattle.

D. Banks McKenzie. That celebrated temperance lecturer, D. Banks McKenzie, is expected to arrive in Reno this evening at 8:20, on the Pacific express train. Members of the Reform Club are requested to be at the depot to welcome him.

Mr. McKenzie is on the way to Carson, but he may spend a day or two here. It is not known whether he will speak in Reno this evening, though he will no doubt be urged to do so. The following letter to R. P. Chapin conveys all that is known here in regard to Mr. McKenzie's intentions:

DEAR BROTHER CHAPIN:—Yours to hand. I will start on Monday night for Carson City—will put in a little time in your city. I hope to meet the Club at the depot. Remember me to the boys. Go on in your good work. God is on our side. Will have a very large club in this city—over three hundred members up to now—hope to add two hundred more. I am yours in the work, D. BANKS MCKENZIE. Salt Lake City, Feb. 11, '20.

Distances in Nevada. Nevadans are rather inclined to exaggerate the new comers the distance of prominent landmarks. Thus an old inhabitant will ask a "Johnny come-lately:"

"Young fellow, how far off do you 'spose that there mounting peak is?"

The new-comer will look hard at the object, and mindful of the rare clearness of the atmosphere, he will add two or three miles to his first estimate, and say:

"About ten miles I guess."

Then the old inhabitant will laugh a pitying laugh and after enjoying the answer for a minute or so, he will say:

"Why, young fellow, the nearest of them mountings is more'n twenty-five miles away."

Should a stranger, for instance, ask how far it is to the summit of Mt. Rose from Reno, in an air line, he is likely to be told, at least twenty-five miles, whereas the distance, as measured on a map of the government survey, is not over thirteen.

— The Highland Ditch Company has levied an assessment (No. 14) of 60 cents a share, delinquent March 17.

— Hartley makes up an attractive window with large oysters, fresh Truckee trout, porter house steak, etc.

— Wild ducks are said to be destroying wheat near Antioch, Cal. A Reno gunner wishes they would "try that on" around Reno.

— W. Goeggel is said to be one of the best watchmakers on the coast. He was employed in San Francisco to do the most delicate work.

— John A. Jones, the ex-leader of the Washoe "Workmen," has been held to answer to the charge of forgery before the next U. S. Grand Jury.

— W. M. Boardman is one of the members of the State Republican Committee. He is utterly opposed to Grant, does not disapprove of Blaine, and has a preference for Garfield.

— The assessment of $2 on the stock of the Agricultural Society becomes delinquent March 19 (day of sale April 19). The assessment was levied in order to pay off interest over due.

— Flint has two lots of splendid beef cattle feeding on the meadows. The meat of some that he has just killed is at the Truckee Market, and would be hard to beat anywhere.

Mrs. Ali's dancing class is already so large that she is obliged to give her pupils private lessons. The Reform Club hall was filled with dancers last evening. White leads the calling and Kaufman leads the music.

— Chase & Thyes have hung out a very handsome new sign. It was painted by J. M. White, and is an artistic piece of workmanship. The lettering is in white and gilt upon a black ground. The sign cost $40.

— The question having arisen in the court house as to the ownership of a certain plug, piece or parcel of tobacco—held at the leaving of such tobacco on the table constituted abandonment of title, and forfeited the equity of redemption.

W. B. Chamberlain, Frank Free, and Flint have been having some sport in snaring fish in the river. White fish are reported scarce, but one angler says he saw eighteen bushels of suckers in a given spot in the stream. Chamberlain is considered "the boss" at wiring fish.

A Report About Sutro. The Sutro Independent of yesterday morning had the following: It is rumored that Adolf Sutro has sold most of his interest in the Sutro tunnel, and that he has resigned as superintendent of the same, the resignation to take place March 1st. A reporter of the Independent spoke to him last Saturday morning of the rumor, but was unable to learn what amount of truth there was in it.

A Fragrant Breath and Pearly Teeth. Are easily obtained by cleansing your teeth daily with that justly popular dentifrice, SOZODONT. Composed of rare antiseptic herbs, it imparts whiteness to the teeth, a delicious aroma to the breath, and preserves intact, from youth to old age, the teeth. Acidity of the stomach will destroy the strongest teeth unless its effects are counteracted with SOZODONT, and this pure tooth-wash protects the dental surfaces by removing every impurity that adheres to them. Ask your druggist for SOZODONT. d&w

We Challenge The World. When we say we believe, we have evidence to prove that Shiloh's Consumption Cure is decidedly the best Lung Medicine made, in as much as it will cure a common or Chronic Cough in one-half the time and relieve Asthma, Bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, and show more cases of consumption cured than all others. It will cure where they fail; it is pleasant to take, harmless to the youngest child, and we guarantee what we say. Price, 10 cts. 50 cts. and $1.00. If your Lungs are sore, chest or back lame use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, Druggists, Reno, Nevada. nov 1 sat in this
